Polyester resin, reinforced with fiberglass chopped strands and/or woven cloth, are the ideal materials for planter construction. Design flexibility, high strength to weight ratio, impact resistance, resistance to water and other chemicals — as well as excellent outdoor weathering characteristics — are just some of the reasons why fiberglass containers from Palmetto Planters out-perform other, more traditional planter materials. Quality craftsmanship, custom design and engineering capability, timely delivery and excellent customer service — combined with over twenty-five years of fiberglass engineering experience — make Palmetto Planters the best choice for your project. Let us work with you to mold your design concepts into reality.

Timeless Classics

Palmetto Planters' Classic Urn is one of our most elegant containers and is now available in five sizes. With its smooth fluid lines, the Classic Urn can stand alone as a focal piece or in an arrangement to accentuate an entrance, a walkway, a courtyard or plaza. Mix and match these timeless planters for a beautiful effect. The Classic Urn can be finished in a variety of textures and can be color-matched to a customer's specifications.

The Double Roll Rim Planter is one of our most popular containers. This modified version—the "Mini" Double Roll Rim—is the same in every way—except it is a little less than half the height of the standard Double Roll Rim Planter. The "Mini" looks great in a grouping of standard Double Roll Rims by offering a variance in height without compromising style. The Mini is also a beautiful addition to the top of a brick or stone column. This lovely and versatile fiberglass planter will fit into almost any setting. Just like the full-sized version, the Mini-Double Roll Rim Fiberglass Planter is available in a variety of sizes, colors and texture choices to enhance many different design applications.

Palmetto Planters' Large Tapered Planter is one of our exclusive contemporary container designs. This is one of our largest planters and has been produced for architectural and landscape designers in the continental United States and Puerto Rico. These large containers have been used in resorts, restaurants, shopping centers and parks. This planter can be fabricated in a variety of colors and textures and will make a definite statement in any landscape design whether it holds a tree . . . or custom sculpted metal flowers as shown on the left.

Each order at Palmetto Planters is custom-made to your specifications. With an infinite variety of color options and finish textures, you determine the final appearance of your planters. Palmetto Planters offers finishes that range from smooth gel-coat finishes in both matte and glossy to textured finishes in smooth, fine, medium and coarse as well as metallic finishes in a variety of colors. Need a specific color for your project? Just provide us with a color chip or number and we'll fabricate your planters in the color you specify.

Palmetto Planters specializes in producing large custom fiberglass planters and fiberglass container designing. If you need assistance with a custom designed planter or container, please contact us so that we can discuss your project's specific needs. Our engineering staff will work to ensure that the container you desire is properly reinforced to maintain its structural integrity. Let our professionals determine the necessary bracing required to create planters that exceed your expectations.
